Editorial

it's all about balance

At Froli everything revolves around the topic of balance — for all areas of life and life situations, at home as well as when travelling, at work and in the area of rehabilitation. Decisive factors for the optimal balance between body, mind and soul, and thus quality of life, are ergonomic sitting and sleeping. For many decades, we have been inventing, developing and producing innovative high-quality products for a wide range of Sit + Sleep applications that meet the highest ergonomic and functional demands, are sustainable and help users find their personal balance.

Possibilities

How can we help you rethink sitting and reclining? We already offer many market leaders a wide range of options and intelligent solutions, including for the office, rehab, sleep furniture industry and trade as well as caravanning and boats. We are happy to develop value-adding products for your applications as well. With our experts at the locations Schloß Holte-Stukenbrock (DE) and Ventspils (LV), we are well prepared for any kind of task.

Inspiration

In this catalogue you will find a variety of inspirations as well as insights into our range of products and services. Our experienced team is ready to redesign individual, successful products of the new generation with you. The best products are created in partnership! Perhaps there are already products in our Froli programme that correspond exactly to your ideas and needs. Of course, we will be happy to check this for you. In all this, we act with heart, mind and positive creative will.

the 5 pillars of our corporate philosophy

If there were only one word for what Froli is all about, it would be inventiveness. Coupled with excellent manufacturing expertise, intelligent solutions and developments have been created since our foundation in 1962. Customers from trade and industry all over the world benefit from our expertise and extensive knowledge of ergonomics and health. We are continuously moving and developing with an eye on the markets, trends and needs. However, one thing remains uncompromisingly constant — the five pillars of our corporate philosophy: Customer satisfaction, quality, employee well-being, innovation and sustainability.

THE FEELING OF HOME — ANYTIME AND ANYWHERE

More than 60 years ago, our company founder Heinrich Fromme was already gripped by a thirst for adventure, freedom and independence — in other words, travel fever. Even then, it was clear to him that restful sleep was the source of the next adventure. He didn't fiddle around for long and put his concentrated plastics expertise, for which he had already received international patents, into bed systems — for caravans and also for the home, and directly applied for the first patent for this as well.

BED SYSTEMS FOR HOME AND TRAVELS

Froli was the first manufacturer of patented ergonomic spring elements for bed systems to establish itself in the market in 1993. It has been awarded many prestigious prizes and now supplies to more than 30 countries.

Froli bed systems bear the seal of the Institut für Gesundheit und Ergonomie e.V. (Institute for Health and Ergonomics), Nuremberg and in 2021 the company was awarded the "Ergonomics Innovation Prize".

— USE OF ONLY HIGH QUALITY AND DURABLE MATERIALS

— USE OF THE LATEST ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY PROCESSES IN ALL PHASES OF PRODUCTION

— VALUE-ORIENTED AND FAIR DEALINGS WITH EMPLOYEES AND BUSINESS PARTNERS

Froli is one of the top 100 most innovative companies in the German SME sector.

Even our company founder Heinrich Fromme thought and acted with foresight with a view to the future and was aware of his responsibility towards the environment and his employees. Even if 95% bio-based plastic was not yet an issue at the time and the thought of a beehive in one's own company garden was still far away — all environmentally friendly options available at the time were exploited.

Today, responsible thinking and consistent action in all areas have long been firmly anchored in our corporate philosophy — and are verifiable, from product development and production to disposal and recycling.

hey possibilities!

The entire world of possibilities

Lifestyles and work structures are in constant flux. Areas are merging with each other or being completely rethought. Regardless of how we live and work – it's always about sitting, standing, laying down. Ergonomics and health are the decisive factors that give us energy, maintain our mobility and promote our activities. And that's exactly what we've been doing – for decades and still with the greatest passion. With products and components that ensure that body, mind and soul are in perfect balance – in the workplace and at home, while travelling and in the area of rehabilitation.

What began in 1962 with plastic windows in Schloß Holte soon led to the development and production of ergonomic products and components for sitting and sleeping. Today, we develop and produce a comprehensive range of components for national and international customers – as the market leader in our industry – at our main location in Schloß Holte-Stukenbrock and in Ventspils in Latvia.

What are the needs of the market and end users?
How can we help to make daily life more pleasant?
How can we optimise products to achieve the best result for often difficult installation spaces? Questions that determine our daily work and inspire us every day to think innovatively and develop customised solutions – close to the market, close to the customer, close to the needs. At the same time, we are fast and flexible thanks to our manufacturing expertise and depth.

SIT

SLEEP

At Froli, we combine the competences in different stages of the value chain to offer our customers the best possible result. Research and development, prototype and tool construction, wood, textile, metal and plastic processing as well as various assembly areas offer an all-round carefree package. We supplement our expertise with a targeted network of partners. We work together with regional and international institutes, universities and companies.

COMPLETELY CARE FREE

SEWING

Especially in the Sleep sector, Froli products come very close to our customers. Cover fabrics for mattresses and pillows, decorative upholstery fabrics for bed frames or in vehicle interiors as well as technical textiles with high functional value. At Froli, experts work on the selection and processing of materials. In close cooperation with the quality department, product management and bed production, samples are produced quickly and easily. Whether it's quantity 1 or series production — Froli has the capabilities to meet your requirements. Froli Baltic SIA expands our capacities if required and also offers DIN EN ISO 9001 certified quality management.

ASSEMBLY

This is where everything comes together. The wood and aluminium from the machine room, plastic components from the injection moulding, textiles from the sewing shop. Safety-relevant screw connections are created with angle of rotation and torque monitoring. All beds, for example, receive a quality ID code for traceability. This has been standard at Froli for a long time and is very rare in furniture production worldwide. This is where commitment meets care. Our team is highly motivated and is also happy to fully commit to your requirements.

TOOLMAKING

The quality of the end product is decisively determined by the quality of the tool. Our tool mould construction and manufacturing is integrated into our development and production processes. Through preventive maintenance and care, we can ensure the excellent, consistent quality of our products as well as deadline flexibility and continuous delivery readiness — a major plus point for our customers in securing supply chains.

INJECTION MOULDING

Our competence area of plastics processing offers you special material and processing expertise. Technical plastic and assembly products, e.g. made of high load-bearing PA compounds, permanently elastic TPEs and many other thermoplastics, are our own developments that reflect our inventive spirit. The materials are characterised, among other things, by particularly high load-bearing capacity, variable elasticities, degrees of hardness and conductivity. We are specialists for small and large series. The range of services includes injection moulded parts with injection volumes of 1 - 2,500 g and a machine clamping force of 25 - 500 t.

PUR INTEGRAL SKIN FOAMS

Polyurethane integral foam is a very versatile material which is processed at Froli with a lot of experience at the locations Schloß Holte, Germany, and Ventspils, Latvia. This results in very high-quality products in various degrees of hardness, which are highly valued by our customers, e.g. from the rehabilitation, office and special vehicle sectors. Froli has a lot of competence in the formulation of the material components. Products are created for the highest demands on quality, ergonomics and cleanability. For example, biocompatibility according to EN ISO 10993-5:2009 (cytotoxicity of eluates) is a matter of course for many products. If you have special requirements, our team will be happy to advise you. With our other service areas such as toolmaking, injection moulding and woodworking, we can offer you comprehensive project planning and series production from a single source.

VACUUM FORMING

Low costs and fast realisation are the unbeatable advantages of the deep-drawing process. The interaction of low-cost tools and the simple realisation of material, surface, thickness and colour variants make this process so attractive and popular. After the deep-drawing process, the articles are subjected to further processing so that, for example, different drilling patterns are possible with production from just one tool.

WITH VISION

CONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT

We love challenges. Our experts in ergonomics, production and assembly processes are an important driver for our innovative strength. Whether it's about generating the best sleeping comfort from difficult installation situations or creating the right components for your new work chair — we have the professionals to do it. We don't just think about individual components, but always keep the interplay of the components firmly in mind. The result: numerous innovation, ergonomics, quality and sustainability awards. And many thousands of happy customers.

Froli staff directly.

SUSTAINABILITY

Our team in energy, environmental and waste management works hand in hand with all areas of the company. In 2023, an environmental management system will be implemented and certified. Sustainable thinking and action are integral parts of the Froli DNA.

QUALITY MANAGEMENT

Quality management is an elementary component of our corporate philosophy and enjoys the highest priority. We have been DIN EN ISO 9001 (2015) certified since 1995. Since we also deliver directly to automotive OEMs, quality management at Froli in many cases goes far beyond the requirements of ISO 9001.

INFORMATION SECURITY

The security of data and prototypes has long been a high priority at Froli. Data protection and data security are lived processes. To document our high standards, we are striving for TISAX certification in 2023/2024.

It is impossible to imagine many leading hotels in the world without Froli folding beds. Exceptional products for highly demanding guests. Many hospitals also count on Froli: as an extra bed for family members and doctors on call. Our beds for the home can now be found on every continent. We are looking forward to new partners in distribution and specialised trade. It is often furniture manufacturers who make the difference in competition with Froli products as complementary products.

Restful, healthy sleep — especially when travelling, irreplaceable for an energetic next day full of activities or even a safe onward journey. We offer our industry partners a wide range of excellent bed, upholstery and seating systems that meet all requirements for comfort, stability, ergonomics and ventilation — whether in a motorhome, compact vehicle, caravan, boat or yacht, from the frame to the spring mat to the upholstery. It's amazing how much comfort is possible in the smallest space — with Froli.

There is room in the smallest hut — so they say. But can you also lie down and sleep well everywhere? Our motto is: Tomorrow starts tonight! We have been dealing with this issue for decades. At home, in hotels, clinics and in recreational vehicles. In Africa, Asia, America, Oceania and Europe. Even a king has already equipped his private aircraft with Froli systems, of course with 4 motors, massage and light equipment. We have a solution not only for all bedroom situations, but also for every customer. Retrofit sets for do-it-yourself installation, systems for professional vehicle fitters and property furnishers, complete side beds with solid wood and patented folding mechanism. So it is fair to say: Froli — sleeping well on land, water and in the air. On the following pages we give you a small insight into our possibilities.
